

Manya Malhotra, 5-B

Name of Book: Ramayana

Genre: Epic

Ram was about to become the king. But Kekayi stopped the king as she had been influenced by her old maid Manthara. Kekayi told Dashrath to send Ram to the jungle for 14 years. His dear wife Sita and his beloved brother Laxman went with Ram. Then mighty Ravana captured his lovely wife Sita. Ram went to defeat Ravana but it was tough as he had ten heads to kill. Ram didn't panic and put his heart and soul to get his beloved wife back.

Some adjectives that come to mind when I read about these characters are:

Ram-brave, strong, lovable, sensible, handsome, swift

Sita-beautiful, lovely, gentle as a dove, caring

Ravana- evil, mighty, greedy, strong, cunning, ferocious

Mantra-hunched back, clever, evil, greedy

Laxman really reminded me of my brother as he is too is caring and loving with me. Sita reminded me of my grandmother who is gentle, lovely and very beautiful.

This book was wonderful for me as I am really interested in learning about India's mythology. I would recommend it to everyone so that they can learn more about Indian mythology.
